

Quliyangualikina – Make a Story

Long before there were books, Alutiiq people told stories to share history and events. Create your own quliyanguaq—story by filling in the blanks.

Nunaqulita—Berry Picking

Many years ago, a boy and his very best friend went out berry _____ . Their (verb ending in -ing)

names were Alagnaq and Cuawak. They were really hungry for _____ , because they (plant)

were so _____ ! Alagnaq and Cuawak went out to (the) _____ , and found (adjective) (place)

some _____. They looked closely at the _____ of the plant to see if (plant, plural) (noun)

it was _____. Alagnaq and Cuawak took some and kept _____. Cuawak (adjective) (verb ending in -ing)

looked up and saw a _____ that was _____. Seeing that made him (noun) (verb ending in -ing)

_____. Alagnaq was so busy _____ he did not notice Cuawak. Then, all of (emotion) (verb ending in -ing)

a sudden, a _____ came out from the _____. Alagnaq and Cuawak were so (noun) (plant, plural)

_____ that they _____ all of their _____. They ran and hid (adjective) (verb, past tense) (plant, plural)

behind a _____. After waiting _____ , they _____ away. Then (noun) (amount of time) (verb, past tense)

they walked home where a feast of _____ was waiting for them.
(type of food)