

Cama'i – Hello,

In just three weeks, the Alutiiq Museum will reopen to the public. We are excited to share our renovated facilities. To celebrate this achievement and thank the many supporters who made it possible, we are hosting three days of events. Admission is free. Participate in events, enjoy our new exhibits, browse our bigger store, visit with our staff, and learn about our programs. Everyone is welcome. Please bring your friends and family. Taikina! — You should come!

Grand Reopening

Opening Celebration

All new exhibits, dance performances, and more.

May 22
4:00 - 8:00 PM

Alutiiq/Sugpiaq Film Festival

Nine films explore the reawakening of traditions.

May 23
10:00 AM - 5:30 PM

Native Arts Market

Shop directly from Native artists at the museum.

May 24
Noon - 5:00 PM

Events Flyer

Film Festival Schedule

Free Admission. All Are Welcome.

Exhibit Preview

Alutiiq kayak collected ca. 1868. Alutiiq Museum Collections, courtesy of Harvard University.

Our new exhibit hall features six thematic galleries. Visitors can explore Alutiiq ancestry, ties to the land, communities, spirituality, conquest, and the reawakening of Alutiiq traditions. The displays were created with help from community advisors, and they include a dramatic presentation of kayaks—a visitor favorite. See a preview of the content on our website.

Exhibit Hall Preview

Language Archive

Elder Larry Matfay, courtesy of his family.

Have you visited our Alutiiq Language Archive with hundreds of recordings and Elder interviews? We recently moved the archive to new set of pages on our website. Find biographies of Alutiiq speakers and then listen to audio and video recordings. This extensive archive is filled with Alutiiq speech and cultural information, and it is indexed!

Online Archive

First Friday Art Walk

Drawings by local artist Stacy Studebaker.

Local Artist Stacy Studebaker will share her portraits of birds from Alaska and Arizona. Meet Stacy and enjoy her beautiful color pencil drawings. Please contact Chyian Heine for more information.

Alutiiq Museum Store
Friday, May 2, 5:00 – 7:00 pm
Downtown Marketplace

Events

Shop for Mother's Day

Hand-painted salad bowl by local artist Sandee Drabek.

Mother's Day is May 11. Find a special gift for your mother, stepmother, grandmother, auntie, or godmother. We have beautiful handcrafted pieces of locally-made artwork and jewelry, as well as books, clothing, stationery, and more.

Alutiiq Museum Store
Online or at the
Downtown Marketplace
111 Rezanof Drive, Kodiak

Shop Online

Membership Matters

Lucille Davis lights an oil lamp, 2001.

It takes many people to keep the light of culture burning bright—culture bearers, learners, and supporters. Everyone has a role. Everyone can help.

Help us celebrate the Alutiiq Museum's 30th anniversary and invest in future programs with a membership or a donation to the museum.

Join Now

The Alutiiq Museum is a non-profit organization dedicated to preserving and sharing the heritage and living culture of the Alutiiq, an Alaska Native tribal people. Representatives of Kodiak Alutiiq organizations govern the museum with funding from charitable contributions, memberships, grants, contracts, and sales.

